

Strengthen Women's Political Participation & Decision-Making Power

THE WORLD TODAY

22%

Roughly 22% of parliamentarians globally were women in 2015

18%

In 2017, just 18.3% of government ministers globally were women

10%

Between 1992-2011, women accounted for less than 10% of people at peace negotiation tables

THE INVESTMENT CASE

Women in positions of authority tend to :

- Resolve national crises without resorting to violence
- Advocate for social issues that benefit all
- Allocate budgets to health and education

Companies with strong female leadership on their boards have shown a return on equity that is 10.1% annually vs. 7.4% from companies without

SOLUTIONS

Temporary quota systems to help bring women into political spheres

Civic leadership and political engagement training for women

Women's participation during humanitarian crises, conflict prevention, and peacebuilding processes

Political environments that are free from discrimination and violence

To join the campaign and for data sources, please visit deliverforgood.org

Paving the way for more women in political, business, and civic arenas is an investment in more just, equitable, and peaceful societies.

ASKS

Eliminate structural and legal obstacles that hinder women's participation in politics and decision-making, and hold those obstructing them accountable.

Invest in training programs for young people, women, and men on political systems, women's right to participation, and their roles in decision-making.

Introduce temporary quota systems and gender-sensitive leadership pathways to help bring women into political spheres.

Promote the visibility of female politicians and decision-makers, and create a safe and enabling political environment in which they may participate in public life, at all levels.

Promote women in leadership and decision-making at all levels, including at peace negotiation tables and in humanitarian emergencies.

Promote community and sport programs that foster leadership skills for girls and women and promote gender equality.

Support women's leadership in the workplace through greater inclusion in executive positions and on corporate boards.

Fund grassroots organizations that build the capacity of women to participate both individually and collectively in social, economic, political, and public life.

RIPPLE EFFECT

